OUR FUTURE PROSPECTS.

There has, perhaps, been no period in the history of British Columbia when her prospects of future wealth and greatness were so flattering as they are at the present time. Every day serves to multiply the variety and increase the importance of her own vast resources, and every mail brings us intelligence of the increasing interest she is exciting abroad. There is scarcely a country in the civilized world where a recital of the unparalleled richness of our gold fields has not sent a thrill to the hearts of some, whose first impulse is to hasten to the golden land and seize upon the glittering treasure, and thereby place themselves in positions of independence and power. Indeed, the name "Cariboo" has become a by-word among the nations, not associated with feelings of contempt and ridicule, but astonishment and envy; hence, before her shrine may be found representatives of almost every nation and language under heaven—Jews and Gentiles.

It is only now that we are beginning to become aware of the vast extent of our mineral wealth. The first excitement was occasioned by the discovery of gold in dust upon the Lower Fraser; thence the intrepid miner pushed his way until he arrived at the great Cariboo country, whose valleys and streams are bedded with gold, and whose gigantic mountains are thought by some to be composed of rich gold-bearing quartz. When this El Dorado was discovered, it was supposed that the ultima thule of gold mining in British Columbia had been reached, but subsequent events have proved this opinion to be incorrect. Although any substantial and reliable information which has reached us from Peace River is but meagre and unsatisfactory, yet it is the prevailing belief among practical men that that country will prove equally rich with Cariboo. Bridge River is now attracting great attention; and if any reliance can be placed upon the accounts we have received from that district, it is likely to increase in importance. In the Thompson River, the Coquahalla, Rock Creek, and, indeed, almost every river and creek in the Colony, gold may be found in greater or less quantities. These discoveries are of themselves—to say nothing of our silver, copper and coal mines, our vast forests of magnificent timber, our valuable furs, and our agricultural land—of sufficient interest to attract hither a large population.

We have every reason to believe that large portions of the territory between the Rocky Mountains and the Red River Settlement are auriferous. We are informed by those who travelled over the route last summer that the color was obtained in nearly every stream over which they passed; and they were assured by the natives that in many places rich diggings had been found. These facts are all of vital interest to British Columbia, giving her, independently of her own internal resources, a relative importance which cannot be overlooked. It is highly improbable that a country like that which lies between here and Canada—so easy of access, with a soil and agricultural advantages perhaps unsurpassed, with its great mineral wealth, and its extensive coal beds—will long remain in the undisputed possession of wild beasts and savage Indians. Contemporaneous with, if not prior to, the settlement of that country, will be the establishment of a route from Canada which will terminate in this Colony. This route, as we announced on Saturday, is now occupying the serious attention of the leading statesmen in Great Britain and Canada; and we have been assured by men, whose opinion upon the subject is authority, that in the course of three years we may reasonably expect to see a mail route and telegraph line established between Canada and British Columbia. The telegraph is generally the pioneer of the railway, and we think we are indulging in no vain fancies when we picture to ourselves a continuous chain of railway from New Westminster to Halifax. This mammoth railway will be a work of time, but we may look with almost certainty to its eventual completion, which will be the ne plus ultra of our fondly cherished dreams, and which will place the long-despised Colony of British Columbia second to no other in commercial importance.

There is yet another circumstance which speaks loudly of promise to the down-trodden Colonists, namely, the anticipated change in our administration. Without wishing to be unjustly severe, or devoid of that charity which every man ought to feel for his fellow, we cannot help arriving at the conclusion which is constantly forced upon us, that to the stupid mismanagement, incompetent legislation and studied neglect of our impolitic Governor is mainly to be attributed the unsatisfactory progress of the last four years. Upon this subject, however, it would be useless for us to enlarge at this time; it has become a stereotyped fact, ever present to the mind of the insulted inhabitants of this country, and one which must ever associate the name of Governor Douglas with sensations far different from those which ought to be felt by a loyal British people towards a representative of our beloved Queen. But we have reason to hope that the day is not far distant when we shall be delivered from this yoke. We are upon the eve of the most important political changes, which must exert a beneficial effect upon the Colony. Indeed, the anticipation of these changes has already produced a perceptible improvement. Not only has property more than doubled its value, but men are gaining more confidence in the country, and consequently investing capital and labor to a much greater extent than they would otherwise have done.

All these circumstances are fraught with significance, and point to the future greatness of British Columbia. Let us, then, gather courage from the omenous present, and with that energy and unflinching zeal which have hitherto characterized the people of this Colony, fight valiantly for our rights as freemen and British subjects, and the reward which awaits us will more than compensate any sacrifice which may be made in its attainment. We have a bright, glorious future before us which is worth striving for, and the brightness and glory of which we hope to behold at no distant day.

The British Columbian.
NEW WESTMINSTER, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3, 1863.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.
The heat has been most oppressive here during the last few days; but, fortunately, the nights are cool. The mercury stood at 100 in the shade and rose as high as 117 in the sun to-day. The water in the Fraser, which had fallen 6 or 7 feet, the result of the few cool days last week, is again rising, and the snow is rapidly disappearing from the sides of the mountains. Vegetation is quite as forward here as at New Westminster, and what little land is under cultivation looks very well; but farming operations in this locality are very limited indeed, as there are only a few circumscribed patches fit for cultivation, and, as a natural consequence, such stuff as is usually produced upon the farm runs high. Milk sells readily at $1.50 per gallon; butter at $1.50 per lb., and eggs $1.50 per dozen; but even at these prices there is nothing like a regular supply; potatoes, last year's crop, sell at 4c. per lb. It will easily be seen from these prices that a farm, dairy and poultry yard would pay well; but the difficulty is to get a suitable piece of ground. There are, however, a few patches out of which money could be made.

THE INDIANS.
In noticing the improvements in this town in my last, I omitted the Indian population. A piece of ground, probably 50 acres, in the upper end of the town, and comprising the best soil, has been appropriated as an Indian reserve, upon which they are settled, having built houses of a class little inferior to the whites, and in many of which are to be found cooking stoves and many other of the conveniences and appliances of civilization. These Indians number about 200, and subsist chiefly by doing such work as is offered by the white population. And here may be observed the happy fruits of the labors of the Romish Missionaries, not only in the cleanliness and comfort observable, but in the marked abstinence from drink and other disorderly conduct. The Rev. Mr. Reeve has also devoted much time to these people.

THE WAGON ROAD AND BRIDGE.
But the great feature of improvement is the wagon road, which is no longer matter of speculation. It is a great fact, and although not yet quite completed, is making itself felt already. Packers are offering to carry freight from here to Richfield for 50 cents per lb., which is very much under former prices; and when the road is completed it will in all probability be carried for half that price. There is in all about one mile of the road between this and Lytton to be constructed; but that mile is composed of several rocky bluffs which will have to be blasted. The road is now finished as far as the site of the bridge, to which wagons are now running. Mr. Trutch, the contractor, is busily engaged at the bridge, and it is expected it will be completed by the 1st of August. The material arrived at Emory's Bar, 4 1/2 miles below this place, on Friday last, by the str. Col. Moody, but on account of her inability to cross that bar the freight had to be discharged there. This bridge is to be constructed of wire, upon the suspension principle, and will have a span of over 300 feet, and will be the first of the class in either Colony. The Chronicle (Victoria) just come to hand states that the piers of the bridge are up. This is a mistake. The one on this side of the river is expected to be finished to-day, but the other is not commenced. The iron work will be commenced as soon as the material now lying at Emory's Bar is delivered. Notwithstanding the fact of the unfinished state of the road freight in very considerable quantities is now going forward, which will appear when we state that the road tolls collected at this point during the past month amount to $6,000 in round figures. The chief portion of the freighting is done from here to the ferry in large mule wagons, and thence upon the backs of animals, and packing by Indians has almost entirely fallen into disuse.

MINING.
What little mining is done below this point is altogether in the hands of Chinese now; but even most of these have recently been drawn off to the Rock Creek and other sections which offer better prospects at present. There is, however, still a considerable amount of mining done upon the various bars below this place, and some of the diggings would seem to be highly estimated, as one claim changed hands last week at $800, which is considered a high price on the Lower Fraser.

INDIAN MYTHOLOGY.
Upon the roadside some three or four miles above this town stands planted one end in the ground, and standing about five feet above the surface, a stone column about 8 x 12 inches in size, and upon which hangs the following Indian legend: It is well known that the Indian tribes of these Colonies are the subjects of numerous superstitions respecting the salmon, which constitutes their chief article of food; and it is, we believe, the universal custom amongst them to present the first fish taken each season to their Priest as a sort of thank or propitiatory offering to their piscatorial god. According to the legend connected with the aforesaid stone, a woman belonging to the tribe inhabiting these parts, "once upon a time" sacrilegiously and wantonly appropriated to her own use the fish which should have been offered through the Priest to the god of salmon, and, as a punishment for her sin, she was instantaneously transformed, not into a pillar of salt as was a certain wayward daughter of

Ever in olden times, but into a pillar of stone, which pillar the aforesaid slab is said to be, and is pointed out to this day by the credulous Indians as a warning to their women.

THE SCENERY.
As many of our readers are doubtless aware, the natural scenery of this vicinity is truly grand and picturesque. To describe it in language would prove utterly inadequate. The towering mountains capped with eternal snow, and forming cataraacts leaping down their rugged sides, looking like torrents of liquid silver glittering in the sun, dashing in angry spray from crag to crag as they impatiently pursue their devious course and mingle with the surging and turbid stream of the "mighty Fraser" many thousands of feet below—these must be seen in order to be appreciated. And then there are those terrific canyons, where a volume of water, under ordinary circumstances constituting a river of half a mile in width, is forced through a yawning, rocky gateway of from 80 to 50 feet, and sometimes causing that stream to rise as much as 60 feet in the course of a few days. And then there are innumerable small streams, or creeks, with their enchanting cataraacts and pebbly beds, in almost every instance well stocked with silvery trout. Were such natural scenery as is possessed by Yale to be found in the centre of happy Old England we venture to say it would attract the attention of the world—would be visited by all Europe. But so prodigally has nature lavished such scenery upon the Fraser that one longs for the smooth fields and verdant dales of other lands. There is no doubt, however, that when this Colony is opened up to the traveller—becomes the great thoroughfare of the world—the scenery afforded will attain a world wide renown, and will invite alike the geologist and the tourist.

Poetry.

Childhood's Home.

BY CHARLES GITHENS.

My childhood's home! rude, vine-clad cot!
With memories fond and bright,
My heart clings to that rural spot
Where first I saw the light.
Let others prize the splendid dome,
And wealth and grandeur seek;
But give to me that humble home,
That quiet, calm retreat!

Where birds, in joyous wood-notes wild,
Warble dame Nature's lays—
Far sweeter sounds to nature's child
Than those that art would raise;
The skies so blue, the balmy air,
The meadows robed in green,
The murmuring brook, the flowers so fair,
The sun's bright, cheering beam.

And when meek summer's reign is o'er,
And winter's chilling blast
Comes with the mad wind's angry roar,
And snow-flakes falling fast—
Then, round the blazing hearth we sit,
Fond parents on us smile;
While mirth and song, and pleasant chat,
The fleeting hours beguile.

Yes, cherished spot! bright thoughts impress
My fancy as I gaze
On pictured scenes of loveliness
That childhood's visions raise.
Though life's rough waves around me foam,
And cares the brow o'ercast,
Fond thoughts of childhood's happy home,
I'll cherish to the last!

TREATMENT OF TRANSPORTED CONVICTS IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.—A pamphlet on this subject, recently issued by Mr. John Frost, of Chartist notoriety, was brought under the notice of the Council of the Liverpool Financial Reform Association, as giving a most horrifying account of the cruel tyranny practised towards the convicts, and of the frightful depravity, including the offence of the "Cities of the Plain," prevailing amongst them, which he attributes to their being treated rather as beasts than as human beings. Whilst himself employed as police clerk at Port Arthur, it was part of his duty to read over to the convicts on their arrival the code of "Settlement Regulations," comprising upwards of 150 distinct laws, which task occupied him about an hour and a half. He says that far the greater part of these regulations are absurd and brutal, but that every convict is expected to remember and observe them; whilst for the breach of any one of them, however trivial, he is liable to receive 36 lashes on his bare back. Insolence, disobedience, disrespectful conduct to superiors, who are often themselves accusers, witnesses and judges, are amongst these offences; and amongst the many specimens mentioned are flogging for neglecting to touch the cap to an empty carriage, or on passing the house of a superintendent, and walking with the hands in the pockets. A convict being brought before the Supreme Court for trial, the judge asked, as usual, for his "police character;" it filled a sheet of foolscap, and the judge indignantly threw it down. The prisoner alleged that all the offences recorded against him did not amount to one crime, as well he might if all were like the first five, for each of which he had received 25 lashes; they were these:—"finding on him a needle and thread," "finding on him a bit of tobacco," "finding on him a fish-hook," "finding on him a few potatoes," "a rude answer to an overseer." Mr. Frost alleges that all the horrors and cruelty deposed to as existing at Norfolk Island and Port Arthur, before Sir W. Molesworth's Committee in 1837, were thrown into the shade on Tasman's Peninsula; that they are still prevalent; and that to his offers to prove all that he states, Ministers, and Peers, and Members of Parliament have turned a deaf ear. Hence he appeals to the people; and that appeal ought not to be made in vain if a tithe of his statements are correct, and most especially if it be true, as he asserts, that the crime of Sodom and Gomorrah is visited with less severity than the "regulation" offence of having possession of a tobacco-pipe!—Financial Reformer.

A FORTUNATE PAUPER EMIGRANT.—Five or six years since sixteen young girls were sent from the Portsea Island Union to Australia, where they were all soon comfortably settled, and turned out well. One of them had the good fortune to marry a man of considerable property, and, on her returning to England a short time afterwards, one of her first acts was to call in her own carriage at the workhouse, for the purpose of expressing her gratitude to the schoolmistress for those kind offices which had enabled her to achieve so favorable a position in life.

"I told that lie."—Soon after my father moved into the country, one of us children told a lie. My mother could not ascertain the culprit. "Well," said she, "you may escape now, but I will know some day which of you has told a lie." One night a tremendous wind arose, and blew off the entire roof of the house. My mother ran up, and cried, "Children are you all there?" "Yes mother," piped a small and terrified voice, "We are all here, and if the day of judgement has come, it was I who told that lie."

MISTAKEN ECONOMY.—No language can express the cruelty or folly of that economy which, to leave a fortune for a child, starves his intellect and impoverishes his heart. There should be no economy in Education. Money should never be weighed against the soul of a child. It should be poured out like water for the child's intellectual and moral life.—Dr. Channing.

IMPORTANT TO WILLIAMS CREEK MINERS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned will be prepared to furnish LUMBER of all descriptions suitable for Building, Plumbing, Sluicing, Rifles, &c., on Williams Creek and Jack of Clubs Creek, on or before the fifteenth of May, 1863, without delay, as they are erecting a Water Power Mill that will turn out from ten to fifteen thousand feet of Lumber per day. We hope by giving this timely notice that we may secure the trade and greatly benefit those who may favor us with their patronage, as we will be prepared to furnish Lumber at greatly reduced prices, which all must acknowledge will be of great benefit to the business, as well as the Mining community, in a section of country where Lumber has up to the present time been sold at the enormous price of $250.00 per thousand, owing entirely to the article having to be whipsawed and labor commanding such high prices. With the use of this Mill we hope to place all parties wanting Lumber in possession of it immediately, thereby facilitating their mining operations greatly, knowing as all do that business as well as mining has been greatly retarded, from not being able to procure Lumber when most needed. And we hope with the aid of our Mill, together with the Williams Creek Ditch, which will be completed in time to furnish all with water in the Hill Claims and not interfere with the Creek Claims, also, the surplus waters of Jack of Clubs Creek and Ground Hog Lake turned over the divide into Williams Creek, will enable hundreds, if not thousands, who from the scarcity of water, without the aid of the above named ditches could not profitably do so, to work their Claims; also the great and beneficial influence which must inevitably accrue to all, both Hill and Creek Claims, from the great and costly bed-rock Flume, being at present partly constructed, for the purpose of carrying off effectually the tailings that must, with the advancement of mining on the whole Creek and hills on both sides of the Creek, naturally fill up and prove a great annoyance, owing to the scarcity of water, there not being a sufficient quantity most of the season running naturally in Williams Creek to accomplish the great work; but with the assistance of the surplus waters of Jack of Clubs and Ground Hog Lake waters flowing into Williams Creek and the great bed-rock Flume to carry everything through it, will not only prove of incalculable benefit to all, but place Williams Creek beyond the rivalry of any other mining locality in the Cariboo country.

EASE AND HEALTH TO THE SICK HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

DISORDER OF THE SKIN.
Universal approbation has been awarded to this famous Ointment for its efficiency in removing diseases of the skin. For scrofula, scurvy, scald heads, and all eruptions of the skin, both in infancy and mature years, no remedy can be applied which so quickly cures as Holloway's Ointment. In the nursery it should always be at hand to ease the many skin affections to which the majority of children are liable. In all heat and tooth rashes, the Ointment is wonderfully cooling and curative. To soldiers, sailors, miners, and travellers in foreign lands, it is invaluable.

SORES, WOUNDS, BAD BREASTS, BAD LEGS.
In this class of maladies, an improvement in the appearance of the disease of the patient, follows the first dressing with the Ointment.

It must not only be smeared on the wound, or sore, but be briskly rubbed for some inches round about the diseased swollen or painful parts. It will penetrate to the blood vessels, nerves, and muscles, and even to the bone, and will exercise the most wholesome, healing, and purifying power over every tissue requisite for thorough reparation. The effect of the Ointment is increased by fomenting with warm water before the Ointment is rubbed in; but save, when healing, should never be cleaned with sponge or anything else, as the young and new flesh which appears like a cream, would be washed away.

BLOOD TO THE HEAD, APOPLEXY.
Nothing gives so much ease in these complaints from which so many suffer, as Holloway's cooling and healing Ointment. When rubbed upon the spine it acts most energetically in drawing surplus blood from the brain; even to children in teething; this Ointment has a marvellous effect in preventing fits and convulsions, so often attendant on tooth-cutting. The Pills should be used according to the directions.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, STIFF JOINTS.
Every one suffering from these painful affections should use this purifying Ointment, as it has rescued thousands from a life of torture, after every other means had been tried in vain. The Ointment should be well rubbed into the skin at least twice a day, after it has been properly fomented with warm salt water, and dried.
The inflammation soon yields, and the patient no longer helpless, resumes his accustomed occupation.

GLANDULAR SWELLINGS, BRONCHITIS, MUMPS, SORE THROAT, AND DIETHEIRIA.

To combat these diseases with success, a remedy is required which will have the whole absorbent system under its control. Such a remedy is Holloway's Ointment, when rubbed on the skin; it penetrates to the glands, and removes any obstruction or impurity which may be impeding their healthy action. This Ointment acts on the very mainspring of life; for through the glands pass all new matter required for the body's reparation; in all the above class of cases, the Ointment and Pills used conjointly will act so searching, and certainly, as to effect cures in the most deplorable cases.

ASTHMA, SHORTNESS OF BREATH.
In these complaints the Ointment should be well rubbed twice a day upon the chest, and between the shoulders; it will penetrate to the lungs, stimulate them to renewed exertions, prevent stagnation of blood, moderate the pulsations of the heart, regulate the current of air through the bronchial tubes, and thus effect a permanent cure.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—
Bad Legs, Chapped Hands, Scalds, Sore Nipples, Bad Breasts, Contracted and Stiff Joints, Sore Throats,
BURNS, Elephantiasis, Skin Diseases,
Bites of Mosquitoes, Fistulae, Scurvy, Sore-heads, and Sand-Flies, Gout, Tumors, Coco-bay, Glandular Swel- Ulcers, Wounds, Chiefo-foot, lings, Yaws,
